Department of chemistry and internal quality assurance cell of the college were organised online workshop on 5 September 2022 at 10.00 am in cultural hall on RESEARCH AWARENESS among the students. At the beginning head of the chemistry department Mr N. M. Chougale sir addressed department and welcome to today's program guest Dr. A. H. Gore sir. Later on, Mr. A. B. Dhenge introduce today's guest Dr. Gore sir who is published 60 articles in national and international journals having citation number is 1192 as well as h – index is 20. Dr. Gore sir recognised in World Scientist ranking (AD Scientific index) for last two succeeding year and they are also worked as a reviewer for RSC, Elsevier, Springer journals. Dr. Gore sir try to culminate research mind in the students also they give information about how to do research. Guided how to overcome the problems encountered while doing research. At the same time, he discussed how our research work will help the social and scientific community.

In this program 60 number of students show their enthusiastic attendance and get benefits of it. During the question and answer session, Dr. Gore satisfactorily answered all the questions and doubts of the students. We organise programs in this way to develop scientific attitude among the students. At the same time the college is conducting such type activities with the aim of increasing their interest in research and contributing in the field of research in the future. Through this program we have try to fostering their curiosity in the area of research and fundamental science also. I hope we are succeeded in, to initiate keen interest of student in the thrust area of science.

Report on
One Day Workshop On
“Introduction of Snakes & Conservation Strategy”
Organized by Department of Zoology

Rationale:

Around the world, snake populations are declining due to human activity, and hundreds of snake species are in danger of going extinct. The ecology and humans both benefit from snakes, thus their widespread extinction would have a negative impact on the rest of the biosphere. However, it is challenging to mobilise support for snake conservation activities because most people view snakes with fear and contempt. Programs that educate people about snakes can help alter public perceptions of them. Snakes are a farmer's best friend and one of the most significant biological control agents in agriculture, particularly for controlling rodents. The consequent attitude shift makes people more motivated to conserve and protect snake populations, which will benefit ecosystems and biodiversity all around the world.

Expected Outcomes:

After the successful completion of the workshop, participants will be able to:

Recognize the differences between several snake species, including venomous, semi-venomous, and non-venomous snakes.

Put the various snake conservation measures into action.

Raise people's awareness of the need to dispel snake-related myths and fears in society. The next generation of pupils will be able to develop empathy for snakes and a willingness to protect them from the negative effects of human activity if teachers promote widespread snake education in their classrooms.

SESSION PLAN

Wednesday 30 November, 2022

Session: Introduction of Snakes & Conservation Strategies

Time required: 03 hour

Aim:

To provide participants with a general overview of the variety of snakes found in the Dodamarg taluka and Sindhudurg district, as well as information about snake conservation and snakes' role as a farmer's friend and a key element in the biological cycle.

Outcomes:

The participants will be able to identify several sorts of snakes, including venomous, semi-venomous, and non-venomous snakes, and will be able to gain a general notion of them. Additionally, they will be able to learn about the diversity of snakes, the significance of snake conservation, and various conservation tactics.

They will also be able to dispel myths and fears associated with snakes and raise awareness throughout society.

Workshop Methodology:

PPT presentations, participant reflections, debates, and video clips are all used during lectures.

Resource person: Workshop Facilitator - Miss. Simanthini Naik (SARRP India, Educator & Wildlife Rescuer)

Requirements:

A seminar hall with good ambiance, LCD projector and Speakers for sound amplification of videos and Internet facility.

Workshop On Fire Safety

Workshop on “Fire Safety” Organized by Amdar Deepakbhai Kesarkar Science College Dodamarg in association with Department of Chemistry and Surya Gas Safety Device Kudal, Sindhudurg to the Office Assistant, Assistant Professors and Lab attenders in college premises.

About the Workshop:

A workshop is conducted on fire safety on 16 January 2023 from 9.00 am for Lab Attenders, Assistant Professors and office Assistants. Fire safety training begins by identifying the basic properties of fire. All fires start when heat (a source of ignition) comes into contact with fuel (anything that burns) and oxygen is present. To prevent a fire the goal is to keep sources of ignition and fuel apart.

The fire safety risk assessment helps identify what a workplace needs to do to prevent a fire and keep people safe. The assessment looks at:

- Emergency routes and exits
- Fire detection and warning systems
- Firefighting equipment
- Removal or safe storage of dangerous substances
- The emergency fire evacuation plan
- The needs of vulnerable people
- Communication with employees and others on the premises
- Staff fire safety training

A fire safety risk assessment is the first step in identifying fire hazards. It also identifies the people at risk, state of emergency preparedness, and effectiveness of controls in the workplace. With the information from the risk assessment staff can make improvements in their fire safety plans and eliminate or reduce risks. College can also ensure appropriate training is provided to staff of each Departments. Participants were actively involved in the Demo process and learnt to deal with prevention of Accidental generation of fire in different situations. Mr. M. V. Golase , I/C Principal had instigated the session. Mr. N. M. Chougale, HOD of Chemistry had coordinated this workshop.
